Bridging the Gap:
Ensuring College Success for Maine GEAR UP Graduates

Design Team:

Wendy Allen, Pam Flood, Debbie Gilmer,
Beth Lambert, Kathryn Markovchick & Rick Wilson

Silence Starter

- ★ Hand up, finish your sentence, stop talking, stop doing.
- ★ Eyes on the facilitator.
- ★ Signal Teammates.
- ★ Signal other teams.
- ★ Actively listen.

Mix – Freeze - Group

- ★ Mix - Move around room slowly (take at least 10 steps). Be sure to take your notebook and a pen or a pencil.
- ★ Freeze - when the music stops, stop where you are and listen for the question.
- ★ Group - by the # in the answer.
- ★ Introduce yourselves.
- ★ Share something you are doing now that involves connecting with your students after they graduate. If you are not doing anything, share one thing you have heard about that you would like to do.

Jigsaw Instructions

- ★ Count off one to four in groups. Number 3s will be time keepers.
- ★ #1 117-118, #2 117 & 119, #3 117 & 120, #4 117 & 121
- ★ Use your left side Reflection Log to take any notes
- ★ Read the abstract and your section of the article (5 mins.)
- ★ Talk to a trio of experts (others who read the same section as you did) (5 mins)
- ★ Return to your base group and each person has 2 min to share what they learned (Time Keepers keep on track)

Swap Talk

- ★ Pick up your right hand side of the Reflection Log
- ★ Stand up - Hand Up - Pair up
- ★ Share your information with a partner
- ★ Swap your log with your partner, thank him or her, and put your hand up to find a new partner
- ★ Share your new log info with your new partner, eg., “I need to introduce you to Rick,” point to him and share what you know about him and what he learned
- ★ Continue until you see our hands up.

 Great resource for those of you filing FAFSA right now!

Parents, students filing for Free Application for Federal Student Aid can maximize with a few tips
www.nydailynews.com

If you have a kid gearing up for college next fall — or you are the student — you know that the Free Application for Federal Student Aid, a form widely known as FAFSA that opens the door to Pell grants, Stafford loans, PLUS loans and work-study programs, is due very soon.
